Tumor Cured.

"By their fruits ye shall know them." The way to judge of the value of any medicine is by its cures. Apply that test to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it is at once lifted high above all other put-up medicines designed for the cure of womanly diseases. Chronic forms of disease which local physicians have failed to cure, and which have yielded to no other treatment, have been perfectly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes monthly regularity, it dries debilitating drains, it heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Mrs. Shugart, of Ballin, Shelby Co., Ohio, writes: "My mother had an ovarian tumor which we thought would result in her death, but we had read your advertisement and we commenced using your 'Favorite Prescription.' We got our second bottle to commence with, and before she had taken three bottles she began to improve; she is living today and we have given your medicine the credit. My mother was sixty-six years old when the tumor commenced to grow; she is seventy-six now and the tumor is all gone. She had gotten awfully large, and her limbs began to swell before we began to use your 'Favorite Prescription.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness.

HORROR IN A TUNNEL

Five More Lives Lost Under Lake Erie.

Explosion of Gas Wrecks Intake Shaft--Escape of Two Men.

Latest Accident Occurs at Crib No. 3--Many hours pass Before news is Known.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 30.—As the result of an explosion of gas in the new water works tunnel under Lake Erie last night five more lives were added to the already long list of casualties recorded since work first began on the great artificial waterway.

Crib No. 3, five miles from shore and two miles beyond crib No. 2, where nearly a dozen lives were lost a week ago, was the scene of latest accident. The work of sinking the big intake shaft at this point was completed, and five workmen were engaged in digging a tunnel in the direction of No. 2 crib when the fatal explosion occurred. The heavy casing of the shaft was shattered by the terrific force of the explosion and the water from the lake rushed in upon the unfortunate workmen at the bottom. Two men who were at work on staging at the top of the shaft were blown high into the air, but alighted on the crib and beyond being stunned, were not seriously injured.

The accident occurred late in the evening, but nothing was known of it on shore until the next morning. For some reason no boats are kept at the cribs. Thirty men, who were on the crib when the explosion took place, spent the night vainly signaling for assistance. It was long after daylight before a tug reached them.

It is supposed that the men digging struck a vein of gas which was ignited by a spark made by a workman's pick. Heavy iron girders and machinery weighing more than a hundred tons were forced out of the shaft by the explosion. The crib was wrecked. Death must have been instantaneous to the workmen in the tunnel, for their comrades above heard no outcry. So great was the destruction wrought by the explosion that it will probably be weeks before the damage can be repaired and the bodies of the unfortunate workmen recovered.

James Williams, who lost his life in the tunnel, was one of the men who heroically entered the tunnel after the accident of last week at crib No. 2, in search of victims of that disaster. Plummer Jones, who at that time descended into the shaft with Williams, was overcome with gas and died in the tunnel.

Mayor Johnson visited the scene of the accident and on his return ordered all construction work on the tunnel stopped until every safeguard shall be provided for the protection of the men. The mayor said that in his opinion the city would be justified in taking the work out of the hands of the contractors, but subsequently decided not to interfere with the construction of the tunnel, and operations will at once be resumed. The crib will, however, be supplied with boats, life preservers and rockets to be used as signals. Experts will also be employed to detect the presence of gas in the tunnel and in other ways look after the safety of the workmen.

Adam Kest and Joseph Eugene, two of a dozen or more workmen who were trapped in the tunnel by the burning of Crib No. 2 a week ago were rescued from their horrible position late Monday afternoon following the fire and are now lying in Huron-st. hospital, where, with careful nursing, the physicians say, they will soon recover their former strength and probably be none worse for their experience.

At the hospital Eugene and Kest related some of their experiences. They said that they did not know that there had been a fire and they could not account for their plight unless some accident had happened which would soon be repaired.

"We gave up more than once," said Kest. "We lost track of time. I didn't know whether it was six days or ten. The gas must have made us sleepy. We slept a lot I know. We didn't know whether it was day or night down there."

"We tried to get out several times. Each time the gas drove us back. At last we decided that it was get out or die and we made a try, tapping on the pipe as we went along."

According to the story of these men the first intimation Eugene and Kest had of the fatal fire was the shutting off of the lights. The two men were working far in advance of the gang, and when the latter made their rush for safety Kest and Eugene were sitting down behind the air lock waiting for the lights to be turned on again. They did not hear the shouts and cries of their fellow-workmen.

Coroner Simon in his verdict on the disaster a week ago at crib No. 2, in which a dozen lives were lost, finds the city of Cleveland, the sub-contractors and the crib engineer jointly responsible, the former because its officials knew, through inspectors, of the absence of precautions for saving life, the sub-contractor for allowing smoke to accumulate in the crib, and the engineer for allowing the smoke-stacks to become overheated.

He owes his life to the forethought of a companion.

While on a camping trip in Webster county, Mr. S. I. Stump, of Newton, W. Va., had a severe attack of bloody flux. He says, "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the forethought of one of the company who had taken along a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Moral—Procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or steamship, and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. CREMATED BY A MOB.

NEGRO FIEND BURNED NEAR WINCHESTER, TENNESSEE.

Admits Assault and Murder of Mrs. Williams.

Appeal to Angry Men--Prominent Citizens Try to Avert a Lynching.

Washington, Tenn., August 31.—Henry Niles, the negro who criminally assaulted and shot to death Mrs. Charles Williams, wife of a prominent farmer, near this city last Friday, was captured early this morning at the water tank near Cowan, Tenn. He was brought to Winchester by his captors and placed in the county jail. Sheriff Stewart made haste to try to barricade the jail and protect the prisoner. Soon an angry mob of several hundred men gathered, but Assistant Attorney General Matt N. Whittaker appeared and made a speech to the crowd.

He appealed to them to assist him in allying excitement and upholding the majesty of the law. He promised to reconvene the grand jury to promptly indict the negro and have speedily tried at the present term of court, assuring the crowd that his conviction and legal execution was a foregone conclusion. This appeal was supplemented by Judge J. J. Lynch, Capt. W. P. Polly and others. No sooner had their appeals been made than several hundred citizens from the neighborhood where the crime was committed, came up and augmented the crowd. They swept forward upon the jail, overpowering the sheriff and his deputies, took the prisoner and started for the scene of his crime, twelve miles distant.

The mob was orderly, but determined. It seemed that the whole population for miles around had turned out to see the fate of the wretch. A procession three miles in length followed the mob to the Williams home. Arriving at a point in sight of the scene of the crime, the negro was placed upon a stump and given a chance to make a statement.

He mounted the stump stolidly and laughed as he began his statement. He said: "Tell all of my sisters and brothers to meet me in glory. I am going to make that my home. Tell my mother to meet me where parting will be no more."

He was then asked as to whether any one else was implicated in the crime. Niles stated emphatically that there was no one implicated but himself.

"Why did you kill Mrs. Williams?" was asked.

"I just done that because I had nothing else to do."

He finished his statement at 1:35 p. m. He was taken from the stump and carried to a tree, bound to the tree by chains and his body saturated with oil.

At 1:45 the match was applied and instantly the quivering body was enveloped in flames. Fense rails were pitched about the burning body and soon life was extinct. The negro made no outcry at any time and died as stolidly as a stoic. There were no disorderly scenes about the burning body. At least 6,000 people witnessed the horrible fate of the negro. Many remained until nightfall, augmenting the blaze until the body was entirely consumed. They then departed quietly for their homes.

STORY OF THE CRIME.

Lying on the floor of the family room, her face splashed with blood and the oaken planks stained with the same drops, Charles Williams found his devoted young wife when he returned home from marketing his wheat in the little town of Maxwell. A heavy bullet had gone through her head, life was completely extinct, and her two baby children were crying aloud their grief and fear. The oldest boy, aged five, told what had occurred. The young mother had been shot and killed by Henry Niles, a negro hand upon Williams' place. As the mortally wounded woman sank to the floor, Niles shot at the boy, the bullet grazing the child's head. The negro fled to the woods.

Williams' neighbors were stirred to the pitch of exciting merciless and summary justice.

On receipt of the news of the crime, Sheriff Stewart departed for the scene with bloodhounds. A posse of determined citizens, well armed and provided with a rope, was also on Niles' trail.

It is reported that the motive was robbery, and $20 was obtained by the murderer. Mr. Williams is a farmer, well to do, and one of the most prominent residents of his section of Franklin county. The dead woman was a member of one of the oldest and most respected families in the county. The two children, the eldest is just five years, were the only witnesses of the tragedy.

THE WEEKLY JOURNAL.

The Country Journal a Power in the Land--Read by Everybody.

In speaking of the "power of the press," it should not be assumed that only great metropolitan dailies are meant. While it is true that these great journals have established and maintain a system whereby the entire news field of the world is covered every day, and that they sway by their utterances, the most gigantic undertakings, they are but the shining mountain peaks in the system which foams the greatest element in our country's progress and prosperity.

The papers which exist and flourish in nearly every town and hamlet in our broad land are absolutely essential in estimating this great power. They stand nearer to the people than do the daily journals and they certainly reflect and govern public sentiment in their respective localities more thoroughly. When one speaks slightly of the "country paper" he is deriding perhaps the greatest instrument of prosperity in his own community, and a factor in the trend and condition of affairs in the nation that is by no means to be despised.

On more than one occasion, the influence of the country press has been seen in the exaltation of individuals and in the shaping of National affairs.

All this being true, the entire country is to be congratulated upon the improvement which has been made in country journalism within the last one or two decades. The old time idea that a country editor was a synonym of poverty and that he had no important information to exchange for pumpkins, dried apples, etc., no longer exists, and, in most particulars, the true value of the paper is recognized and it is certainly well supported. It is true that there are Harold Skimpoles in journalism as well as in other vocations, but the fact has been amply demonstrated that business principles, when applied in country journalism, are as potent as in other enterprises.

Kentucky has reason to be proud of her newspapers. Her dailies are among the ablest to be found in the entire country, while her country weeklies are upon an unusually high plane of excellence. Nearly all of the latter show evidence of excellent support and many of them are edited in a most creditable manner. They invariably reflect the enterprise and progress of the town in which they are situated and their utterances find their way into the greatest journals of the Nation. No reference has been made to the great magazines, the trade journals, and indeed the periodicals of all sorts published in the country, but all of course go into the great expression, the "power of the press." Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Thirty Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Holloway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

"The weather has been so hot in this country," writes a Southern Missouri paper, "that livestock have had to stand their horses in water an hour a day to keep their shoes from coming off, and wagons are going around with their tongues out. The catfish kick up such a dust in the bed of the Gasconade river that the river has to be sprinkled before you can go fishing. A spark from an engine set the big railroad pond on fire and burned up a wagon load of bull frogs. The ground is so hard and dry that the crawfish holes in the low places are being pulled up and shipped off for gas pipes."

FATHER RODE THE COAT.

The house is full of arnica And mystery profound; We do not dare to run about Or make the slightest sound. We leave the big piano shut And do not strike a note; The doctor's been here seven times Since father rode the goat.

He joined the lodge a week ago, Got in at 4 a. m., And sixteen brethren brought him home.

Though he says he brought them, His wrist was sprained, and one big rip Had rent his Sunday coat; There must have been a lively time When father rode the goat.

He's resting on the couch to day And practicing his signs-- The halting signal, "working grip" And other monkey shins. He mutters passwords "neath his breath.

And other things he'll quote; They surely had an evening's work When father rode the goat.

He had a gorgeous uniform, All gold and red and blue, A hat with plumes and yellow braid And golden badges, too; But, somehow, when we mention it, He wears a look so grim We wonder if he rode the goat Or if the goat rode him.

When you want a pleasant physic try the new remedy, Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro's drug store. m

Another mare's nest put out of business. Mr. Jenks shows that European manufacturers also export goods below home prices sometimes in order to get foreign trade and keep the employees supplied with steady work. Sensible people there know all about it and no fault is found. Calamitists please notice.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm applied to a cut, bruise, burn, scald or like injury will instantly allay the pain and will heal the parts in less time than any other treatment. Unless the injury is very severe it will not leave a scar. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism, sprains, swellings and lameness. For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Taxes Which Consumers Pay.

A revision of the German tariff by which heavier duties will be placed upon American grains and meats, does not show a case where "the foreigner pays the tax." The German masses must have grains and meats, and they must buy them of foreigners for the reason that their own country does not produce sufficient to support the people. If the German Government proceeds to place a high duty upon imports the people must pay the tax, of course, the people must pay the tariff.

They cannot do without the necessities of life, and by taxing such American commodities as are a vital necessity to the German people, the German Government is levying a galling tax which its people, and no one else, will be obliged to pay.—Birmingham (N. J.) Republican.

Success--Worth Knowing.

40 years success in the South proves Hughes' Tonic a great remedy for Chills and all Malarial Fevers. Better than Chamberlain's Quinine. Contains no Arsenic. Try it. At drug stores. 50c and $1.00 bottles.

The Brooklyn Eagle says that when the Republicans in Congress begin to express differing views on the Tariff "the Democracy will have a splendid opportunity." That's what sensible Republicans have seen and why they purpose to deny the Democrats that splendid opportunity.

SYSTEMIC CATARRH.

Peruna Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

Miss Mattie L. Guild, of Chicago, Ill. Miss Mattie L. Guild, President Illinois Young People's Christian Temperance Union, in a recent letter from Chicago, Ill., says:

"I doubt if Peruna has a rival in all the remedies recommended to-day for catarrh of the system. A remedy that will cure catarrh of the stomach will cure the same condition of the mucous membrane anywhere. I have found it the best remedy I have ever tried for catarrh, and believing it worthy my endorsement I gladly accord it."

Catarrh of the abdominal organs is very much more common in summer than in winter time. This form of catarrh might be appropriately classed as summer catarrh.

Peruna will cure catarrh wherever located. In pelvic catarrh it has won well deserved renown. Peruna will cure any case of diarrhea, acute or chronic. Peruna is an absolute specific for dysentery. Peruna cures catarrh of the liver. Peruna cures catarrh of the stomach.

A New Man.

Prof. S. G. Drushel, Mt. Hope, O., has been employed to teach a private school at Fordsville during the fall. Prof. Drushel and we were school-mates, class-mates and chums in college at Lebanon, O., during '98 and '99, our association with him was most congenial indeed, resulting in a friendship that is divine in its conception. In class work he was perfect, pulverizing the most obstinate and puzzling problems in mathematics, and analyzing the dead language singularly easy. In a class of fifty hard working students, from most every State in the Union, he was an acknowledged leader.

He comes from a family imbued with the spirit of education, having one brother in the faculty of the National Normal University and another brother principal of the city schools at Lebanon, O. They have met with marked success in their chosen profession, as has our esteemed friend.

Prof. Drushel is a thorough student, a christian gentleman and a teacher of exceptional ability. He is intensely earnest in his work and highly qualified, possessing such noble traits as he does, nothing, save success is possible for him in school work. Confidently believing in his ability to cope with every question confronting a professor, we recommend him to our readers as a gentleman of exceptional worth, who, if retained in the county, will be a boon to the educational work.

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is strange, but it often happens. Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

PROSECUTION DISMISSED.

Demurrer to Indictment Sustained and the Other Case Dismissed.

Owensboro, Sept. 3.—Special Judge J. Robert Hays filed a written opinion this morning on the demurrers filed to the indictments against Commonwealth's Attorney J. E. Rowe, for malfeasance in office and misconduct in office. In the first case the demurrer was sustained, upon the grounds that the grand jury could not indict a Commonwealth's Attorney upon such a charge until he has been impeached by the Legislature. County Attorney Clements, who represented the prosecution, excepted to the ruling of the court, and will at once take the case to the Court of Appeals.

In the other case, for misconduct in office, County Attorney Clements, upon investigation, found that he could not secure a conviction, and in his motion filed the following statement: "The defendant is charged with having violated section 1365 of Kentucky Statute by receiving money directly and indirectly from John Hayden, in consideration he would dismiss a prosecution then pending against said Hayden in this court. The law provides that a defendant cannot be convicted on the testimony of an accomplice without corroborating evidence. In this case the Commonwealth has no evidence to the transaction other than Hayden, and the court holding that if the facts in indictment are true, then Hayden would be an accomplice, and the Commonwealth having no evidence other than Hayden to substantiate the indictment, he being an accomplice in the opinion of the court, the Commonwealth is unable to make out the case as charged in the indictment, I, therefore, in view of these facts, file these statements and move the court to dismiss this prosecution."

The case was then dismissed and Rowe goes free. Since Rowe has been Commonwealth's Attorney, he has been indicted in Hancock, Ohio and Daviess counties, for being drunk while in the discharge of his official duties. He escaped punishment in the first two counties and filed a pardon from acting Governor Worthington in the case in Daviess county.

Found in a Well.

Wednesday morning about nine o'clock Mr. Lon Stevens, living four miles South-east of town, found an infant child in a stock well on his farm. From reports the neighborhood had suspected that something was seriously wrong in their community. Suspicion ran high for about a week, and finally Mr. Stevens made it in his way to haul water from a stock well near the suspected parties and in order that he might satisfy himself and neighbors, purposely or otherwise dropped his bucket in the well and immediately set about with a grab-hook to search the bottom of the well.

He succeeded in extracting from the bottom of the well an infant child that had been foully dealt with and thrown in the well as a place of secrecy. The proof before the Coroner's jury was that the child had been choked to death by means of a cord tightly drawn around the neck. Every evidence goes to show that the child was natural and full grown and had actually been murdered and thrown into the well to conceal the dastardly deed.

One singular incident occurred about the time Mr. Stevens commenced searching for his bucket when a woman appeared and advised him not to stir up the water, proposing to lend him a bucket so long as he might need it, however he declined and in a few minutes succeeded in finding a child. It seemed to have had a large weight tied to it, which refused to be raised to the surface of the water.

The child was guarded Wednesday night by Messrs. John and Daniel King and Quinton Iler at the court house and after a post-mortem examination by the Coroner's jury yesterday morning, the guards buried it at the Almshouse burying grounds.

The jury went out to view the site where the foul deed had been committed. At the time of going to press the jury had not returned.

Sombre Scene at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 2.—Instead of a great sea of muddy water, the citizens of a large share of the East side of the city gazed today upon tumbled piles of wreckage and ruins and long rows of filth and dirt piled on the streets, sidewalks and doorways. On every hand marks of the flood could be seen. Since the flood subsided, the houses of J. W. Smith and Norton Noble have fallen deeper down into the mire, and two houses, which a few hours ago, were beautiful homes, are now hopeless wrecks. St. Joseph Cemetery, which was devasted by the storm, presented a scene most sombre. The ground were strewn with heart-broken and sorrowing relatives, searching for the graves, little head-stones and coffins of departed loved ones, only too often to be disappointed.

Jim Younger to Marry.

A dispatch from St. Paul says: James Younger, the bandit, who is now out on parole after serving twenty-five years in prison here, is to marry Miss Alice J. Mueller, well known as a writer and a philanthropist. Miss Mueller formerly lived in Missouri, the home of the Younger brothers. Last winter Miss Mueller was interested in the efforts to obtain official clemency for the famous prisoners.

The announcement of the intended marriage was made by Miss Mueller herself. She was ill today and could not be seen, and Jim Younger was out of the city.

Turn the tariff out of Congress, out of politics and give it to an expert commission. The average Congressman cannot master the tariff. So say some, but our ablest tariff scholars have been and are Congressmen—Blaine, Kelley, McKinley, Dingley, Hoar, Cullum, and a host of others. Such men could hardly be got to serve on a permanent commission—American Economist.

FARMER AND PROTECTION.

He Is Best Off with a Near By Market for His Products.

It is the stock argument of the Free-Traders that Protection is of all things inimical to the interests of the farmer. They grudgingly concede that the manufacturing industries thrive under Protection, but they point to the trusts as the legitimate result of the Protective policy, unwilling or unable to see that the relation of Protection to the trusts is simply this: Protection allows American industries to exist. The trusts, so far as they are hostile to the general good, are abuses of this condition, not its legitimate or intended effect. The remedy for any evil caused by the trusts is not Free Trade, but regulation. Under Free Trade there possibly would not be any trusts. There wouldn't be much business of any kind.

Amputation of everybody's legs is not the most sensible remedy for the habit of kicking people. Legs can be regulated without being taken off and especially without depriving the innocent of something to stand on.

The Free-Traders have always contended that the farmers didn't need anything to stand on, and lots of farmers honestly believe they would be better off without Protection. What do they think of Germany's Agrarian Tariff, designed to protect the German farmer by the imposition of heavy duties? If Protection helps the German farmer, why not the American? Of course, the Protection afforded is different in kind, but the same in effect. This country doesn't import farm products and Germany does. The American farmer is not in need of Protection, except in isolated cases from neighboring countries. But when the workingman has no wages he has no flour and meat and vegetables, and that's what the farmer has to sell, and he doesn't want to depend too much upon the foreign market for his sales.

The peculiar speciousness of the free trade argument lies in its appeal to class cupidity. The prosperity of each class depends upon that of all. Wheat at $2 and corn at 75¢ on the other side of the globe may appear an ideal condition from the farmer's view. But it is much better to have $1 wheat and 50¢ corn with money in the pocket of the American consumer to buy it.—Kansas City Journal.

Young Women
The entry into womanhood is a critical time for a girl. Many menstrual disorders started at that time soon grow into fatal complications. That female troubles are killing graveyards prove this. Wine of Cardui establishes a painless and natural menstrual flow. When once this important function is started right, a healthy life will usually follow. Many women, young and old, owe their lives to Wine of Cardui. There is nothing like it to give women freedom from pain and to fit young women for every duty of life. $1.00 bottles at druggists.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspaper is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and it is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., P.O. Box 518, Hamilton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent bottles are sold by all good druggists.

next session of Congress, for the opposition is run ashore for an issue and there are several commercial treaties that, of course, are intimately connected with the tariff and will demand changes or modifications of the tariff. If a tariff dispute and long discussion can be avoided, it will distinctly be a blessing to trade as certainly as either will paralyze a number of industries.

While the country is doing so well nothing could be more unfortunate than to arouse doubt as to the tariff. While a tariff is hanging in the balance no importer will move a hand to grope in the dark, but suspend operations until the rates he is to pay are fixed.

Imperialism and expansion being dead and buried, the plight of the opposition is desperate, and as its mission is to cause mischief, it is too much to expect that such an opportunity to injure the business interests of the country will be allowed to pass.—New London (Conn.) Day.

PARTNERS IN MISFORTUNE

Two Husbands of one Woman Conclude to Have Their Photographs Taken.

Hickman, Ky., Aug. 30.—Two men, one from Reelfoot Lake and the other from Mayfield, walked into a photograph gallery in this city and announced that they desired to have their pictures taken. They stated that they were both the husband of the same woman, and being partners in misfortune, they had concluded to have photographs made on one negative just to show how friendly they were.

The first husband married the woman at Reelfoot Lake and lived with her for some time. One day she disappeared and her husband lost sight of her. The couple had not been happy together and the man claims that he was not sorry when his wife left him.

From Reelfoot Lake the woman went to Mayfield, where she captured the heart of a Graves county citizen. They were married, but in a short time husband No. 2 discovered the real state of affairs through a friend who had known the woman in Reelfoot. Accordingly husband No. 1 called on husband No. 2, and after a short talk, during which husband No. 1 failed to express any regret for the absence of his wife, the two became fast friends.

The second husband will probably file suit for divorce.

Ninety-nine per cent of the talk about the need of "free trade," Tariff revision and what reciprocity will do is destitute of specifications. It is all general and no one knows what any one else means. If the talk ever becomes specific in the sense of demand, repeat of duties required for defense of particular American industries from cheaper costs abroad the fur will begin to fly. ports for goods we do not produce. No man can say to his neighbor: Throw away your business so that I may double mine.

A young lady dropped into a local furnishing store recently and said: "It is my desire to obtain a pair of circular elastic appendages, capable of being contracted and expanded by means of oscillating burned steel appliances that sparkle like particles of gold leaf set with Alaska diamonds, and which are utilized for keeping in position the habiliments of the lower extremities which innately delicacy forbids me to mention." The bashful youth blushed profusely as he handed her a pair of garters, the articles she was seeking.

Playing Dummy.

The following taken from the Lexington Herald shows how even a city police department may be duped some times. If the person mentioned is the same Elmer Lanter we know, he is anything but a deaf mute.

"Yesterday a deaf mute, Elmer Lanter, aged 14 years, son of J. N. Lanter, of Richmond, Ky., who ran away from home and came to Lexington last Monday, was picked up by the police.

"Chief of Police Marshall was told of his presence here by some railroad men and took charge of him near the C. & O. passenger depot and sent Policeman Donlon with him to the police station. There he was seen by a Herald reporter. He told the reporter his story by means of a pencil and paper.

The Rev. C. F. Wells, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease. Asthma and thought you had overspoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment, the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full-size bottle."

Rev. Dr. Morris Wechsler, Rabbi of the Cong. Bnai Israel, New York, Jan. 3, 1901.

Dr. Taft Bros' Medicine Co. Gentlemen: Your Asthmalene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alleviates all troubles which combine with Asthma.

Avon Springs, N. Y., Feb. 4, 1901.

Dr. Taft Bros' Medicine Co. Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I chanced to see your sign upon your windows on 13th street, New York, at 1 o'clock obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle her Asthma had disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease.

Yours respectfully, O. D. PHELPS, M. D.

Dr. Taft Bros' Medicine Co. Feb. 5, 1901.

peculiarly sensitive disposition of deaf mutes. He says his father purchased him sometimes. He did so last Monday night, when the boy determined to leave home. Securing enough money to pay his fare to Lexington, he came here and has been staying about the city since. Just where he lodged he refuses to say.

"The boy seemed very much disturbed because he was placed in a cell and pleaded to be allowed to sit in the office of the station. He wrote, 'Let me stay in the other room with handcuffs on, not in here with negroes. I'll be so lonesome.' Referring to the policeman who took him in charge he wrote: 'If that man don't take me out here, the dumb boy will hunt him until death and kill. I mean it as God is in heaven.'—Pantagraph.
